ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

In making up the annual list of lawyers for each town or city, it is the intention of the Compiler to insert the names, where there are more than one in a town or city, in the order in which each commenced business.

An Attorney, changing his place of business, or a Student at Law, after having been admitted to the practice, and located for business, would confer a favor by sending his card to the Compiler, and by so doing would insure correctness of insertion in the Register.

Through the politeness of Col. Putnam, and his prompt answer to a letter of ours, requesting a statement of his whereabouts and the movements of his Regiment, &c., since leaving New-Hampshire, we give the following brief from his letter in statistical form:

On leaving Manchester the Regiment numbered 1002 men. "About the first of January the Regiment was attached, for a short time, to the command of Gen. B. F. Butler, but on Jan. 12, orders came for it to proceed at once to Washington. Left the camp of rendezvous, at Manchester, on the 14th, arriving at Jersey City the next morning; while transferring the baggage from the steamer to the cars, orders were received to go into quarters in Jersey City and await orders."

Jan. 27, ordered to proceed to Fort Jefferson, Tortugas; but as means of transportation was not ready, the Regiment did not leave until Feb. 13th, and arrived at the Fort, one of the vessels March 1st, and the other on the 8th, and here Col. Putnam assumed the command; the garrison being made up of one company of Regulars, three companies of Wilson's Zouaves, and his own Regiment.

The duties of the officers and men were very arduous, as beside the drill in the use of heavy guns, there were barracks to be built and guns mounted.

June 14, orders were received to embark on the transport Ericsson for Hilton Head, where the Regiment arrived on the 20th, and was ordered by Gen. Hunter to Beaufort, S. C., where the Regiment is now (Aug. 15) stationed. The last of August, was ordered to St. Augustine, Georgia.

The Regiment has not been in battle or skirmishes; occasionally pickets have exchanged shots with the rebels, but no casualties on the part of the Federal troops.

ECCLESIASTICAL.

A TABLE, showing the names of clergymen, of different denominations, who are settled over or have charge of societies in the different towns in New-Hampshire.

Where the same name occurs in two towns, it may be understood the minister officiates in both places.

Abbreviations used to designate the different denominations.—C. T., Congregational Trinitarian; Ut., Unitarian; Pr., Presbyterian; E., Episcopalian; C. B., Calvinist Baptist; F. B., Freewill Baptist; Ch., Christians; M., Methodist; Uv., Universalist; R. C., Roman Catholic; Swed., Swedenborgian; S. A., Second Advent; Chr. G., Church of God. Those printed in italics are ordained ministers, but without charge of any particular church.

NOTE.—In order to facilitate and insure more correctness of the name and location of ministers in the State of New-Hampshire for the Register, the compiler would earnestly request a clergyman of each town or city, or one of each denomination, to give a list of the names, and hand to the care of their Representative to the Legislature, in June, annually, directed to the compiler at Concord.

Physician—Charles F. P. Hildreth.

From the Warden's Annual Report for the year ending June 1, 1861, to May 1, 1862:

The whole number of convicts committed since the opening of the institution, in 1812, is 1202; number discharged, 594; number pardoned, 390; number removed to the Insane Asylum, 5; number died, 73; number escaped, 15.

The number committed during the year, 42; number remaining in prison June 1, 1862, 112.

During the year 38 have left, 20 of whom have been discharged, 12 by remission of sentence, 5 have been removed by death, and one removed to the Insane Asylum.

Considering the rather sudden check of all branches of business, the financial concerns of the prison stand very well. According to the Warden's Report for the year ending June 1, 1862, the gain to the institution, over the current expenses of the business of the prison, was $1,705.40. This balance of gain is partly made up of cash on hand of the last year's earnings.

It had been our intention to have given a brief of each Regiment which had left New-Hampshire previous to the Ninth—of their movements and change of officers; and accordingly wrote to each Colonel for the information desired, but received answers from only two—most probably some of our letters did not reach their destination.

Information from the Seventh Regiment was very full in regard to changes of officers, (see page 98) a record very desirable and convenient for reference.

THE FIFTH NEW-HAMPSHIRE REGIMENT.

Col. Cross, of the 5th Regiment, very kindly kept his promise, and, through his Adjutant, we received a full account of the movements of the regiment, but was received too late for its proper insertion.

Brief record of the movements of the 5th Regiment after arriving at Bladensburg (for time of leaving Concord and names of the officers see Register, 1862).

The regiment was put on active duty, and formed a part of the brigade under Gen. O. O. Howard, which made the noted march of 55 miles to Lower Marlborough in two days, the roads being in a bad state, and after a short rest returned in the same time. The regiment was constantly kept in a severe drill, and when, on the 27th of November, 1861, it marched across the Long Bridge into Virginia, was in a very high state of discipline.

The regiment formed a part of the division commanded by Gen. Sumner, and went into camp about four miles from Alexandria. Col. Cross commanded the force sent to picket from Edson's Hill to Heintzelman's lines; and all winter the regiment not only performed its turns of duty but scouted, chopped wood, built bridges, repaired roads, &c., and planned and constructed the model camp of the division. A practical school for officers during the day, and theoretical in the evening; an evening school for drummer boys in the common branches of education, the regiment became noted for good discipline, sobriety and great skill in the bayonet exercise.

The 5th formed the advance guard to Manassas, although just from a five days' scout. At the battle of Warrenton a force under Gen. Howard was sent to drive the enemy over the Rappahannock; the 5th had the honor of taking the advance in front of the sharpshooters under Lt. Langley. In this expedition for the first time the regiment came under fire, and they behaved with such coolness and bravery that called forth praise from all quarters. This was on the 28th of March. During the expedition to Manassas, over 34 days, the regiment had no wagons or tents, notwithstanding the severity of the weather; marched from Union Mills to Fairfax Court House in one day, and back the same night, on rumor of the enemy's advancing—32 miles in 24 hours.

On the 4th of April embarked for the Peninsula, landed at Ship

Point, and here without tents 500 men were detailed to build a timber road through a swamp several miles. At the siege of Yorktown the 5th was attached to the Engineer Brigade of Gen. Woodbury, and on this service constructed 250 gabions and a large number of fascines, hurdles, &c. One hundred men were detailed to build a tower 100 feet high for the signal corps. All this labor was severe under the circumstances, but it was performed without a murmur.

The 5th the night before the battle of Williamsburg marched all night in a drenching rain, but did not arrive in season to take a part in the battle; afterward was sent by water to White House Landing and scouted to the bank of the Chickahominy.

On the 29th of June the regiment was detailed to construct a bridge over the Chickahominy swamp and river suitable for troops and artillery. This great labor was performed in two days, with the help of a small detachment from the Irish Brigade, and completed just in time for Gen. Sumner to pass over and partake in the battle of July 1, 1862. Without the timely aid of the bridge of Col. Cross, Gen. Sumner and army would have been in great danger of being cut off by the enemy.

The night before the battle of Fair Oaks, Col. Cross commanded the advance guard, and his regiment advanced in the night within one hundred yards of the enemy's lines, and was the first to open fire at daylight; deployed as skirmishers, thence on the right wing the 5th was held during the first part of the day, but later marched into the woods, met and repulsed the enemy in a most noble and gallant style, but with a loss of 200 killed and wounded. From this time to the advancement on Harrison's Landing almost daily under fire on picket or laboring, participated in all the seven days' battles except Gaines' Hill, and was the last regiment to leave the field at Malvern Hill.

With the army of the Potomac the 5th marched to Centerville and helped to cover the retreat of Pope's army; formed the rear guard on leaving Centerville; were held in reserve at the battle of South Mountain.

When the enemy retreated followed by the division of Gen. Richardson, Col. Cross again commanded the advanced guard, and 8 companies commanded by Major Sturtevant deployed as skirmishers, driving in the enemy's cavalry and capturing 60 prisoners.

At the battle of Antietam the 5th gained new laurels by saving the division to which it belonged from being outflanked, and capturing the colors of the enemy, losing 119 men killed and wounded.

The names of battles borne on their colors are Yorktown, Fair Oaks, Savage's Station, Charles City Road, White Oak Swamp, Malvern Hills and Antietam.

Total killed and wounded during the year, 420.

October 1, 1862, encamped at Bolivar Heights.

Obituary notices are again crowded out for other matter, but are retained for a future number.
